

Dog Miracles Through Dr. Christopher's Cleansing Routines

Teodora Patrasc, M.H.

On September 7, 2019, one of our 11-year-old Morkiepo dogs, Dusty, fell sick. He was checked into the ICU with complete loss of appetite, lack of interest in drinking water, chronic kidney failure, mouth sores and low body temperature. In a week he had lost a 1/5 of his weight. He weighed 2.4 pounds (normally 3.4 pounds) and his limbs and breath were as cold as ice. The ICU doctors advised they flush the kidneys with an IV and hoped to lower the BUN and creatinine levels, lower the high levels of phosphorus, and provide antibiotics for his mouth sores and medication for his pain. Three days later, on September 10, the ICU doctors advised us to put the dog down as they were unable to lower BUN or creatinine level to safe limits and were unable to increase his body temperature. His quality of life was poor as he refused to eat or drink.

After a lot of thinking we decided to take the dog home and care for him until the end. We asked the ICU doctor to prepare a discharge form and medication. The doctor argued that it would be inhumane to take him home and was going to refuse to release him, but we said we don't believe in putting anything down and we try to do no harm. We were able to have our dog released to us with a religious exemption and put him on Dr. Christopher's herbal cleansing remedies in glycerin forms.

On his first week home he was so weak and was awake only 20 minutes to an hour each day but we worked hard to help him get earmarked and be comfortable. Blood would come out of his mouth, his skin somewhat transparent, and he would bruise just by touching so we had to be careful. He was so cold, even his breath was cold, that he would shiver and could not fall asleep. Dusty wouldn't eat or drink and appeared confused and very tired.

We soaked a dog sweater in BF&C oil and dressed him and then we added another thick dry sweater over that and massaged his paws with Dr. Christopher Cayenne ointment and then put him in a blanket to sleep wrapped up like a baby. We applied the cayenne heat ointment three times a day to keep him warm. We did this every day for the first five days. In a short time, he would warm up and sleep for hours and then wake up and come out from his blanket.

During the first three days, we fed him with a 20 ml syringe; fresh juiced carrot juice, fresh juiced wheatgrass, fresh juiced stinging nettle and manuka honey dissolved in water. We gave him 1 dropperful of lower bowel together with 3 dropperfuls of kidney formula and 3 dropperfuls of blood stream formula, 1 dropperful of echinacea, and one dropperful of stinging nettles; all in a glycerin form four times a day.

By the fourth day, the bleeding in his mouth stopped, the inflammation in his gums went down, and the pain in his mouth went down. We prepared raw ground meat with raw peas and carrots, blended up and added UDO's oil combination, blackstrap molasses, tomato paste, garlic and cayenne. By now he was able to eat a full bowl of food and drink a fair amount of water. On the fifth day puss started coming out of his eyes. He would wake up with his eyes shut unable to open them. We added 1 dropperful of the eyebright formula to his regime and cleaned his eyes with eyebright in water with chamomile tea and celandine juice. Thick yellow puss had been coming out for a while now the amount started to taper down considerably. At the end of the first week, his mouth was smelling really bad, so we added alfalfa sprouts and chopped wheatgrass to his meals and low heated whole barley grains.

He had slow and steady improvements by the second week. We continued with the same amounts of lower bowel combined with 2 dropperful of kidney and one dropperful of bloodstream. He now has the energy of a normal dog his age, he plays, eats, drinks, and sleeps as before. This treatment and feeding plan for Dusty will continue for the full year. Juicing, using Dr. Christopher's cleansing routines in glycerin form, and using the knowledge I have gained as a Master Herbalist, gave us a miracle for our dog Dusty.

*Interesting to note, x-rays showed that his colon was full, although he had not eaten for a week. X-rays also showed a dense mass in the stomach that could not be removed because he was so weak he could not stand the anesthesia. The day we got him back from the hospital, he had a bowel movement although he had not had food in a week. Every day we would take him out in the backyard and he would have 2 to 3 bowel movements, even though he was fed fresh juices only. His bowel movements are still 2 to 3 per day but a larger quantity and softer.
